

NDORMS Teaching Courses 2020-2021

WORKSHOPS AND MODULES

Please let Robert Grayson (graduate.studies@ndorms.ox.ac.uk) know, in advance, the title and date of the NDORMS organised workshops you would like to attend.

Exploring Immunology

(attendance is expected at both sessions – this comprises the complete workshop)

Thursday 5th November 2020, 10am-12.15pm – Zoom link will be sent prior to session

Thursday 12th November 2020, 10am-12.15pm – Zoom link will be sent prior to session

An Introduction To Clinical Trials

(attendance is expected at both sessions – please contact the facilitators beforehand if this will not be possible)

An Introduction to Study Terminology and Potential Sources of Bias

Tuesday 1st December 2020, 9am-12pm, Meeting link will be sent prior to session

An Introduction to designing and testing complex healthcare interventions in clinical trials

Tuesday 1st December 2020, 1pm-3:15pm, Meeting link will be sent prior to session

Next Generation Sequencing

Tuesday 15th December 2020, 10am-4pm (including lunch break), Meeting link will be sent prior to session

Observational research 8 session module: Introduction to epidemiology, real-world data, prognostic models and health economics

(ATTENDANCE IS EXPECTED AT ALL SESSIONS – please contact facilitators before booking if this will not be possible)

Location: Online

8 x 2-3h sessions to be held in Trinity Term 2021. Dates TBC.

Advanced Real World Epidemiology

Trinity Term 2021. Time and date TBC, 6h session, online