

Patient and Public Involvement

News

We are so grateful to all of you for your valuable contributions. From reviewing documents to attending meetings, giving feedback on research questions and evaluating video scripts – you do a huge range of work!

Team news

It's been a very busy year so far – from opening new studies to closing several others, getting papers accepted for publication and being awarded new grants.

We have some new roles too:

David Keene has been appointed as the Kadoorie Professor of Trauma Rehabilitation

David Metcalfe is now the Kadoorie Associate Professor of Emergency Medicine

James Masters has become Associate Professor (Clinical) of Orthopaedic Trauma Surgery

Alongside these, many of you will have worked with our other academic staff such as Matt Costa, Dan Perry, Steve Gwilym, Simon Graham, Dan Perry, Liz Tutton and Emma Phelps.
